Dear parents and children,

Our learning challenge over the next few weeks is to discover all about a decade in time. Each year group has been given a decade to discover. Research this decade and produce a project sharing everything you find out. This project will be shared when we return to school. Happy discovering! There are some questions to get your minds going but feel free to add anything else that you do find out. We hope to have a whole school sharing afternoon of the work produced so please make it the best it can be.
